Introduction

Well planned and well conducted visits and residential experiences form a recurrent and important part of the curriculum within Kirklevington Primary School. Visits form an important learning experience for children and can make a lasting and positive impact on personal and social development as well as consolidating and enhancing their knowledge and skills. Evidence of the curriculum enrichment provided by visits beyond school is demonstrated by enhanced self-esteem, behaviour, confidence and life aspirations.

As a UNICEF Rights Respecting School, children's rights as outlined in the UN Convention of the Child are at the heart of everything we do at Kirklevington Primary. This policy sets out how school Is keeping children safe from harm, offering opportunities to develop the whole child and enabling our pupils to reach their full potential. (UNCEF Articles 15, 29 & 31)

All activities beyond school contain an element of risk. The effective management of these risks is essential in maintaining enjoyable and successful visits. Every consideration shall be given to ensuring that significant risks are identified and assessed with practical measures taken to mitigate against those risks and effectively manage residual risks with proportionate control measures.

Educational Visits Coordinators, Visit Organisers and Supervisors will consult this document and National Guidance published by the Department for Education, Health and Safety on Educational Visits and the national lead body for outdoor education, The Outdoor Education Adviser's Panel to ensure the currency of advice during the planning, preparation, implementation, monitoring and reviewing of both day and residential trips to ensure a culture of constant improvement.

Educational Visits Organisers must be familiar with its contents, with key issues summarised below.

Key Personnel

Educational Visits Coordinator (EVC): Head of School
Visit Organiser (VO): Staff Member Organising Trip/Visit
Additional Advice taken from: Spark Education Trust and NYES

Aims

Our aim is that all visits from school should be safe, educational, enjoyable, and inclusive and offer equality of opportunity and diversity to all groups of pupils in school.

Day and residential visits should provide opportunities for children to experience a wide range of activities. The variety of 'real-life' opportunities experienced on visits enables children to achieve a fuller understanding of the world around them through direct experience. It is important that children learn to understand and manage the risks that are a normal part of life.

Planning a visit

Educational visits should have a clearly defined educational purpose as part of the school curriculum. It may be that a visit provides an effective stimulus at the start of a unit of work, alternatively, teachers may decide to use an educational visit at any time during a project to enhance and support the curriculum. Wherever or whatever the venue, teachers should ensure that the educational benefits to the children are maximised.

The organisation of an educational visit is crucial to its success. With rigorous planning, organisation and control, a visit should provide a rich, learning experience for the pupils. Whether the visit is to a local park, museum, swimming pool, or involves a residential stay, it is essential that careful planning takes place. This involves considering the risks which may arise and making plans to avoid them.

Gaining Approval for a Visit

Stage 1: Member of staff planning a visit to liaise with VO (Head of School) and to complete electronically the 'Application for the approval of Educational Visits' form (Appendix 1) and discuss with EVC (Head of School) the proposed visit. This discussion should take place as far in advance of the visit as possible.

Issues to discuss will include:

- Is it a new visit
- Reasons for the visit
- Preliminary assessment of likely risks
- Educational benefits of visit
- Costs including arrangements for covering absent staff

Stage 2 - EVC to decide 'no' or provisionally 'yes'.
If 'no', feedback will be provided.
If provisionally 'yes', move to stage 3.

Stage 3 -

- Staff member organising the visit/trip (VO) to email the School Administrator to with details of trip. Buses should be arranged through the school office and insurance, if required, through the school's Risk Protection Arrangement (RPA) Insurance Policy.
- VO to make provisional booking or organise with the School Administrator to do so.
- Then, in advance of the trip, the VO should produce formal risk assessment/s and send them to the EVO/Head of School for approval.

Stage 4 - EVC/HoS to review risk assessments. EVC &LGC to decide yes or no. If yes move to stage 5.

Stage 5 -

- VO/School Administrator to make actual bookings.
- VO to draft letter/communication for parents and email to Head of School & School Administrator.
- VO to hold parents meeting if appropriate, (e.g. for residentials).
- School Administrator to issue and collect parental contributions and student consent forms via Arbor.
- VO to confirm cover arrangements with Head of School via the logistics form.

Stage 6 - VO & EVC to confirm contact procedures

Stage 7 - Visit takes place

Stage 8 - VO to review visit and risk assessments (post visit).

Head of School to update the LGC termly re. a list of authorised visits.

Designated Safeguarding Lead

The designated safeguarding lead and/or a deputy should always be available during school times and any off-site activities, for staff to discuss any safeguarding concerns.

Being available, may be via MS Teams, Zoom or a mobile phone.

A record of the concern plus actions taken should be made on CPOMs by the appropriate persons and actioned (if appropriate) by the DSL immediately.

Inclusivity

The Equality Act 2010 defines several protected characteristics and it may be illegal to discriminate against someone displaying any of these characteristics.

Kirklevington Primary School and Spark Education Trust shall therefore make reasonable adjustments to include those with any special educational, medical needs or protected characteristics, entitling them to participate.

Any decision to exclude someone should not be taken lightly, and only after consultation with those who have responsibility for them or are involved, such as the Head of School, visit leader, class teacher, SENCO, parents, support staff, a third-party provider, GP or social worker.

If a child is excluded from a visit or activity for good reasons, consider providing them with a suitable alternative.

Staff should also consider the impact of exclusion on them, and the wider implications such as on attitudes and relationships across the establishment.

Any adjustments that are made to include an individual should not impinge unduly on the planned purpose of the activity. For example, it may not be appropriate for a parent to accompany a child on a residential visit where a planned outcome of the visit is developing independence.

However, it may be possible to find a different activity which will achieve the same purpose, and which is accessible to all.

Exclusion for behaviour

Behaviour is not one of the protected characteristics defined by the Equality Act. It may therefore be acceptable to exclude someone from an activity or visit if their potential behaviour presents a significant, unmanageable and unacceptable risk to the health, safety or welfare of either themselves or others, or to the successful completion of the activity or visit.

However, if the behaviour is associated with a protected characteristic, great care should be taken to ensure that unfair or illegal discrimination does not take place. Please refer to

Running the Visit

Prior to the party leaving school, if parent helpers are accompanying the trip the School Administrator/VO must ensure they have read, understand and sign to say they will adhere to the Guidance for Parent/ Carer Volunteers on Educational Visits document. (This can be found in within the Risk Assessment folder on the school network and should be printed, signed and scanned to be stored securely.)

Enjoyment of the visit will depend not only on the planning, but also on the efficiency with which the actual visit is conducted. The following advice could be helpful where relevant:

- allocate seats, adults should be sat in different positions within the coach to enable them to keep watch on the whole party;
- stow luggage carefully;
- ensure that all passengers stay in their seats while the coach/minibus is moving and fasten their seat belts throughout the journey, where they are provided;
- allocate a number of children to each adult and make sure they are all briefed on behaviour and medical needs (mindful of the GDPR policy);
- children should be briefed about expectations for behaviour and conduct. Where appropriate, this may include signing a Code of Conduct Agreement;
- make convenient toilet and refreshment stops;
- ensure there is a First Aid kit and travel sickness equipment on each vehicle;
- take plastic bags for litter;
- ensure that medicines for children are taken on the visit and procedures for administering them are followed;
- ensure that the risk assessments for travel to/from and at the venue are taken and that all adults are fully briefed;
- if walking, plan the route to ensure safe pedestrian routes and road crossings.

At a venue, camp or centre run by a provider or resident wardens, the rules and procedures of the centre must be strictly adhered to. To this end all members of staff should be briefed and, if the visit is a residential, a copy of the rules posted in the dormitories/bedrooms.

Parents should know as precisely as possible the estimated time of return to school. If there is likely to be a delay the emergency contact procedure should be activated.

An evaluation of the success of the visit should be made. Final accounts should be prepared and checked for auditing. The Headteacher should be advised of any behaviour/discipline problems.

Keeping Accounts

A special account for activities should be used in consultation with Finance. This should allow for money to be paid in at intervals and for the money for each visit to be separately accounted for.

Visit Organisers/School Administrator should:

- Inform parents what the full amount required is. Inform parents what deposit is required and when, and indicate if the deposit is returnable or non-returnable. State cancellation procedure.
- Establish what amounts he/she is willing to pay – complete Payment Agreement if required.
- Make clear the instalment dates and the final date for payment.
- All monies received to be processed through Arbor for each pupil.
- Keep a note of expenses and obtain receipts.

Visits Using Travel Companies

Visit Organisers & School Administrators using a travel company should be looking for the following:

- Reliability - the company should be well known and reputable, be licensed through ABTA and ATOL and have the organisation and facilities to offer 24 hour support.
- The 'right product' - convenient flights, picking-up points, modern coaches, etc.
- The 'right price' - reflecting good value for money in the eyes of the organisers and parents.
- A programme full of interest.
- Positive supervision ensuring maximum attention to pupils'/student's safety as well as education and entertainment.
- Minimum administrative load for the organisers.

In particular, educational visits organisers should:

- Consider at least three different packages.
- Listen to colleagues' recommendations.
- Try and attend a preview visit.
- Use only companies which are bonded with ABTA to ensure that the group's money invested in the visit is secure.
- For adventure activities, recognition by an appropriate national body is essential.
- Familiarise themselves with the package provider or host information for participants.
- Consider those aspects that are not clear as well as those that are, e.g. what extras might have to be paid for?
- Liaise with the Trust's insurer to clarify if any Exclusions.

- Scrutinise booking conditions.

Preparing to Travel Abroad

This is virtually the same as the preparation required for parties on visits in the UK, e.g. consideration for the purpose of the visit, nature of the party and leaders, safety precautions and travel restrictions applicable at the time.

It is likely that a longer lead-in time will be necessary for an overseas visit, both for the arrangement of the documentation and collection of money.

The following documents/arrangements must be made:

- Passports and passport or identify photographs - for many countries a collective passport with accompanying identity cards will suffice. If a member of the party drops out at the last moment report this to passport control at the port of departure - do not alter documents
- A note should be made of the number on individual passports in case of loss.
- Check with travel companies/embassies to see if visas are needed.
- Check travel and accommodation vouchers/confirmations.
- Check insurance documents.
- Check that every participant has access to adequate health care abroad.
- Existing EHIC will remain current until the expiry date on the card, for use within the EU/EEA providing emergency health care with costs attaching. Check Foreign Office guidance for the country intended to visit.
- New applicants will require either a UK European Health Insurance Card (UK EHIC) or a UK Global Health Insurance Card (UK GHIC).
- Check inoculation requirements for Country or region being visited.
- Currency needs to be organised well in advance with Finance Office.
- Consent forms should be carried.

It is advised that a folder of the above-mentioned documents should accompany the party.

Guidelines to support the planning and implementation of educational visits:

- Information and consent - Parents should be given information about the purpose and details of the visit at the earliest opportunity. Consent for local visits is gained as part of the school's registration pack when a child first enrols at the school. Further consent is only required should the visit be residential, high risk or outside of normal school hours. Parents will be informed of visits taking place. Should a parent not wish their child to participate in a visit, they should inform their child's teacher or the VO. Parents need to be aware that the staff on the visit will be acting in their place – 'in loco parentis' – and will be exercising the same care that a prudent parent would.

- Contact and medical information – Parents are required to keep school informed of contact and medical information, and that this is kept up to date. Prior to a visit the VO will ensure that this information is collated and taken on the visit. Parents will sign (for residentials only) to say they have handed over/collected their child's medication.
- For residential visits, parents will be invited to a briefing session. Special arrangements may be necessary for parents for whom English is a second language.
- Charging / payment – it may be necessary for school to request a contribution from parents towards the cost of visits made during the school day. Whilst school recognises that a pupil cannot be withdrawn from a visit should a contribution not be made, should insufficient funding be available to finance a visit, parents must be made aware that cancelation could be an option. For some visits, school staff will consider fundraising to subsidise costs to parents, ensuring these are kept to a minimum. Residential visits or visits out of school hours will incur a cost to parents.
- Pupil Premium Funding may be used to subsidise the cost of contributions or payments for visits to ensure that all pupils are given opportunities to participate. Where a contribution or payment is necessary, appropriate notice must be given so that parents can budget accordingly.
- A risk assessment is carried out in advance of every visit to identify hazards, who may be affected by them and the steps needed to reduce the risks to an acceptable level. The risk assessment should also think through "Plan B" scenarios. The Risk Assessment should be discussed with and authorised by the Head of School. If events change on the day, dynamic assessment based upon professional judgement will direct the necessary additional control measures. It should be signed by all the adults attending the visit. Following a visit, should there have been no incident, these can be disposed of according to the GDPR policy.
- Wherever possible, a pre-visit should be made by at least one member of staff attending a visit to ensure that they are familiar with the venue and that all risks have been identified.
- First Aid provision should be considered when assessing the risks of the visit. For most visits, a member of staff with a good working knowledge of first aid will be adequate. The only exception is in the case of EYFS aged children, where all members of staff in attendance MUST be a current paediatric qualified person, whether on or off site. A decision based on the risks and children involved should be made for each visit. For adventurous activities and residential trips, there should be at least one trained first-aider in a group. First aid kits should be taken on all visits. If the visit involves splitting into groups, a kit (and travel sickness equipment) should be taken for each group.
- Pupil to staff ratios for school trips are not prescribed in law. Those planning trips, on the basis of risk assessment, should decide the ratios, considering the activity to be undertaken and the age and maturity of the pupils. In practice, the ratio should be determined by a range of factors such as the type of activity, any SEN or medical needs, experience of the staff, venue, transport, and weather conditions and always be in accordance with the NSPCC ratios.

- Whatever the length and nature of the visit, regular head counting of pupils should take place. The Visit Leader should establish rendezvous points and tell adults and pupils/students what to do if they become separated from the party.
- Providing information and guidance to pupils is an important part of preparing for a school visit. Pupils should have a clear understanding about what is expected of them and what the visit will entail. Pupils must understand what standard of behaviour is expected and why rules must be followed. When attending a residential visit, a pupil 'Code of Conduct' could be useful where staff feel this is appropriate.
- Behaviour of pupils - Lack of control and discipline can be a major contributory factor when accidents occur. Pupils should also be told about any potential dangers and how they should act to ensure their own and other's safety. Pupils should be involved in planning, implementing and evaluating their own curricular work and have opportunities to take different roles within an activity. This could include considering any health and safety issues. If there is the possibility that a pupil may be excluded from the visit due to behaviour issues, a meeting would be arranged with the Head of School in advance to discuss concerns and agree what action is to be taken. Then, a meeting with parents should be held by the VO.
- Pupils with special educational and medical needs - The Head of School will not exclude pupils with special educational or medical needs from school visits. Every effort will be made to support them whilst maintaining the safety of everyone on the visit. Special attention will be given to appropriate supervision ratios and additional safety measures may need to be addressed at the planning stage. Medicines taken on visits are done so in accordance with Policy and Procedures for Pupils with Medical Needs.
- Transportation – School ensures that transport to and from visits is appropriate, for example only coaches with seatbelts for all passengers are used. Where it is necessary for a member of staff or parent to provide transport, they must demonstrate that they hold the appropriate documentation (driving licence, business insurance, MOT, etc.) and school maintains a record of this. Whenever transporting a lone pupil by car, there should always be another adult to accompany the driver.
